Re: Lil' Red Village Bakery

Message:

The residents of the Lil' Red Village were excited to witness the construction of the bakery. Not only does it hold the hope of providing an income to currently unemployed residents in the community, but it will also be able to provide bread to feed the school children in the neighboring school and to provide breads and pastries to the greater community.

The participants have undergone training in business practices and marketing. The equipment has been purchased, shipped and cleared customs in Guyana. Food For The Poor's Executive Director is taking great interest in the success of this project and is integrally involved in the development. He will be working with a prominent business person in the community which will be a mentor to the ladies running the bakery.
